Jamie Kelliher Joins Dietz & Company Architects, Inc.

Springfield, Mass. – Dietz & Company Architects is pleased to announce the addition of Jamie Kelliher to their team. Jamie graduated from Cornell University with a Bachelor of Architecture and the University of Arizona with a Master of Architecture in Urban Design.

Prior to joining Dietz & Company Architects, Jamie worked at Drachman Institute for Regional Development in Tucson, AZ and Paolo Soleri/Arcosanti Planning Office in Mayer, AZ where he acquired experience working on complex, high-end award winning multi-family, mixed-use building projects. He collaborated on the Soleri Bridge and Plaza in Scottsdale, AZ, where the design incorporated hallmarks of Paolo Soleri’s signature style and was also designed to bring awareness of our human connection to the sun and the natural world.

Dietz & Company Architects, Inc., one of the largest full-service firms in western Massachusetts, is a woman-owned business that opened its doors in 1985. The firm’s areas of practice include housing, educational institutions, historic renovations, commercial projects and healthcare facilities.
